The NCB Director: Lucas Wickstrom is no stranger to the stage. He has music directed shows such as Rent, Little Shop of Horrors, Kiss Me Kate, Ragtime, Rocky Horror, Children of Eden and the 25th Annual Putnam Spelling Bee. He has worked with and shared the stage with such musical legends as Harvey Fierstein, Joshua Bell, Nell Carter, Judy Collins, Kristin Chenoweth, and Megan Mullaly to name a few. Lucas has performed in many of the great theatres and performing arts centers around the country, from Seattle to New York. Lucas is an organist and church musician, sings with the Negaunee Male Chorus, designs and builds all sorts of stuff (including theatrical sets) and repairs furniture.

This Evening's Student Director: Abby O'Connell is a senior music education student at Northern Michigan University, studying Secondary Music Education with a flute concentration. She is involved in many ensembles at NMU, including Orchestra, Pit Orchestra, Arts Chorale, Wind Ensemble, Symphonic Band, and Marching Band (for which she will be a drum major for the 2022-2023 season). This summer she is playing with the Negaunee City Band on flute/piccolo, Marquette City Band on clarinet, and singing with The Lyra Eight on soprano 2. Abby hopes to use her music education training to teach high school band or choir, and aims to someday pursue a Masters/Doctorate degree to teach at a university.
